

About MyHuckleberry.com

What is MyHuckleberry.com?

MyHuckleberry.com is your online destination for information. We take the guesswork out of finding the best local businesses in your city. Our powerful search algorithms and smart rating system help you find exactly what you need.

It doesn't matter if you're looking for a karaoke bar, mechanic, Thai restaurant, or lawyer – our business listings will direct you to the best in your city.

Designed as a convenient “one-stop shop,” MyHuckleberry.com offers the greatest local information in one convenient location. Want some more help? Our Expert Answers let you ask others for recommendations and advice.

Service Providers

Whether you are an independent contractor or corporate service provider, you can get instant visibility throughout North America with a MyHuckleberry.com business listing. We help turn casual web searchers into customers, and specialize in connecting business owners with potential clients.

Our unique rating system helps your business gain customers in a fresh and organic way – better reviews means more people will want to use your service.

Our History

MyHuckleberry.com was created in response to the frustration of time-consuming searches for quality local businesses. Existing websites offered portions of the equation, but none of them offered all of the best attributes in one location. Many people want to find local talent, but are unwilling to risk hiring someone they have never met. We felt the best way to overcome this problem was to enable customers to review individual businesses and to create an efficient method for finding qualified professionals.